$600 RAISED IN SCHOLARSHIP MONEY

Six area businesses have contributed $100 each to our pageant scholarship fund. Businesses contributing are: Bank of Moundville; Weatherford Printing; Jack Kubiszyn Insurance Agency; Horne's Barbecue; Rollins Mortuary; and Sealy Realty.

SEMINARS SCHEDULED FOR CONTESTANTS

Several seminars for the MSS contestants will be held the next two weeks. A voice and diction seminar will be held by faculty member Jim Jolly Wednesday at 1:30 p.m. Toni McMahon of Ultima II at Gayfers will present a make-up seminar at 3 p.m.

Next Monday Cheree Causey will hold a dance seminar at 5:30 p.m. and Teresa Bliss of Macy's Fashion Agency will hold a modeling seminar at 7:30.

Shelton voice instructor Everett McCorvey will be working with the contestants who sing. Merle Norman of University Mall will hold a free make-up consultation for all contestants. Paul Looney's talented wife Susan will be in charge of the pageant's opening dance number.

BLACK HERITAGE WEEK SCHEDULED

Black Heritage Week, sponsored by Shelton's Afro-American Cultural Association, will be held this year February 23-27 at Shelton State Junior College under the guidance of Bessie German and Ruby Miller.

Tuesday, February 23, will be Motivation Day when visitors from the community, Stillman College, Montivallo, and other colleges and groups from around the state will visit Shelton's classrooms.

Dr. Yvonne Kennedy, president of Bishop State Jr. College and member of the Alabama House of Representatives, will be the keynote speaker on Wednesday, February 24, at 7:30 p.m. in the auditorium.

Then on Wednesday, March 3, the event all the faculty has waited for all year - the Soul Food luncheon! So much cornbread, greens, and ribs was consumed last year that no one could work the rest of the day.

BIRMINGHAM SOUTHERN TO HOLD SCHOLARSHIP TESTING DAY

Birmingham Southern will hold a Scholarship Testing day at Shelton on Saturday, February 27. Through this program, students will compete for scholarships and visit the campus of Birmingham Southern College.

Students interested in competing for scholarships in this program should contact Dean Umphrey this week.

THE ALABAMA PERSONNEL AND GUIDANCE ASSOCIATION WILL HOLD THEIR DISTRICT MEETING AT SHELTON ON TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 9, AT 4 P.M.

NEWS AROUND SHELTON STATE

"The Belle of Amherst" was a special treat and everyone enjoyed meeting Birmingham's Jane Trechsel who played Emily Dickinson with such authenticity....Hold your hats girls! Shelton bachelor Bruce Bizocco will finally go down the wedding aisle. However, it's only for Gayfers bridal fashion show scheduled for February. Will give date later so we can all have front row seats....Shelton's favorite couple, David Hill and Kim Marlowe, have set their wedding date, and Kim now sports a beautiful diamond. Congratulations!!!!...The Phi Theta Kappa week-end was a real success. This group always does an outstanding job....Student Life Week is gearing up to start February 8. Details will be given next week...Everyone attending the Alumni meeting last week enjoyed hearing Larry Keenum, director of chapter development for the Alabama Alumni Association. Lots of ideas were exchanged and the group is in the process of writing a Constitution and By-laws. The Alumni Association will hold an auction and garage sale at University Mall on Saturday, April 17, in conjunction with Shelton State Days at University Mall. More details later....Most of the presidents of Alabama junior colleges were here last week for a meeting. Enjoyed seeing Diane Layton's daddy, Dr. George Layton, who was here for the meeting. Dr. Layton is Assistant Superintendent of Education for the Alabama Department of Education....DON'T FORGET TO GET YOUR TICKETS TO THE MISS SHELTON STATE PAGEANT. PRICES ARE $2 ADVANCE AND $3 AT THE DOOR.
